

ARMED FORCES DAY YORK 2018

25TH JUNE -
1ST JULY 2018

PROGRAMME

Introduction

The City of York Council is proud to present the 2018 Armed Forces Day programme.

Each year the Garrison City comes together to show support for our Armed Forces, Serving Personnel, Veterans, Cadets and their families.

The programme for 2018 has developed partnerships with businesses and organisations locally to show their support alongside a city centre event to be staged on the National Armed Forces Day, Saturday 30 June 2018.

York's commitment through the Armed Forces Covenant

The Armed Forces Covenant is a government scheme which encourages mutual support between communities and armed forces personnel, including veterans.

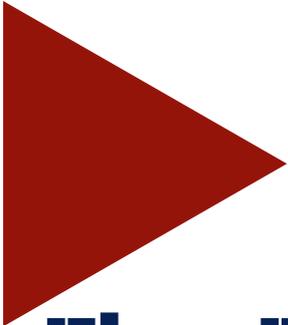

York's Armed Forces Covenant describes how we're working with other organisations to support active and ex-service men, women and their families in our area, including:

- encouraging local communities to support you in the wider community
- encouraging activities, events and projects which help to integrate you into local life
- nurturing an awareness of issues affecting you and recognising sacrifices made by the armed forces
- implementing appropriate policies to support you
- understanding your needs while developing services
- providing employment and training opportunities
- raising awareness of what support is available to you
- promoting and supporting the NHS Veterans Mental Health service

York Remembers: Lifting the shadow of the First World War

For 2018, York is marking the 100 year anniversary of the end of World War One.

We are calling on people, groups and organisations city wide to contribute towards a programme of events set to be staged from October - November 2018.

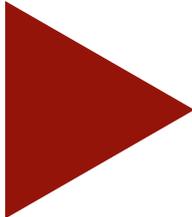

You could be a creative individual, community group, local venue, parish council, shop etc We want to encourage as many people as possible to embrace the anniversary and participate in the city wide programme.

There are various ways you can get involved;

- Host your own event, The biggest contribution you could offer is to create your own event, one that we can include in the overall programme and promote on your behalf.
- Provide free resources for others, Perhaps you have access to a venue/equipment that could be utilised, volunteers who could help somewhere or on the other end of the scale you may have something you could contribute but no venue/resources to do it.
- Share information for marketing We will be releasing the full programme and marketing materials, if you could share this with mailing lists, display a poster or stock a stack of programmes in a venue you would really help to spread the word.

For more information on the programme and how to get involved please visit: www.york.gov.uk/WW1Commemorations

Armed Forces Day Event: Saturday 30th June

York is proud to be hosting its annual Armed Forces Day event within the city centre at Parliament Street on Saturday 30 June, 11.00am – 4.00pm.

The event looks to thank the serving personnel, veterans and cadets for all they do and have done on behalf of the country and to bring them together with the citizens of York and afar. The city centre event will include a small range of activities for the family, demonstrations, music, information stands and much more. In previous years the Armed Forces Event has attracted many individuals, a day of fun and entertainment with sincere appreciation for the Armed Forces at the heart of it.
